Printed Bummi Training Pants

~~$15.95~~ $8.50

You Save: $7.45

We are selling out of our diaper business! These are brand-new, and are selling for only $1 above our cost. When they are gone, they are gone - but I'll still be here to answer your questions.

Mama's hints for how and when to use these:

- 1. For little ones who are 75% accurate at predicting bathroom during the day, and could take themselves to the toilet if they didn't have to wrestle with a diaper.
- 2. For little ones who are aching to be more independent, but aren't good at predicting yet - or little ones who want to take care of themselves at night, but still wet more often than not (although for both of those cases, I fold over a premie or infant diaper and insert it into the training pants - otherwise, a major spill exceeds the pants).
- 3. For little ones who are 95% good at night, I use these pants to catch the 5% and save the bedding!
